

EMERSON COLLEGE

School of Communication

Four departments offering professional master's programs in:

Global Marketing Communication
& Advertising (IAA-accredited)

Health Communication
(a collaboration with Tufts University School of Medicine)

Integrated Marketing Communication

Journalism (broadcast, print and integrated/convergence concentrations)

Management & Organizational Communication

Political Communication

Speech-Language Pathology
(ASHA-accredited)

Cultivate success.

Your students already have a strong undergraduate education. Emerson's graduate communication programs help them build on what they have learned. With academic and industry leaders in the classroom, your students will learn from the best. And because Boston is home to world-renowned communication agencies, media outlets, corporations and clinical facilities, they will gain the hands-on experience they need to move to the top.

Cultivate success. Direct your students to Emerson.

For more information contact: Office of Graduate Admission

120 Boylston Street, Boston, MA 02116 • tel: 617.824.8610

email: gradapp@emerson.edu • www.emerson.edu/graduate_admission.cfm